

Proposed Greater Grand Canyon Heritage National Monument

A Landscape Deserving Protection

 Proposed Monument Boundary (applicable to only federal lands)

Landscape Values

-  Springs
-  Rivers & Streams
-  Habitat Connections for Wildlife Movement
-  Designated Wilderness
-  Mature & Old Growth Forest
-  Arizona Trail

Uranium Threats

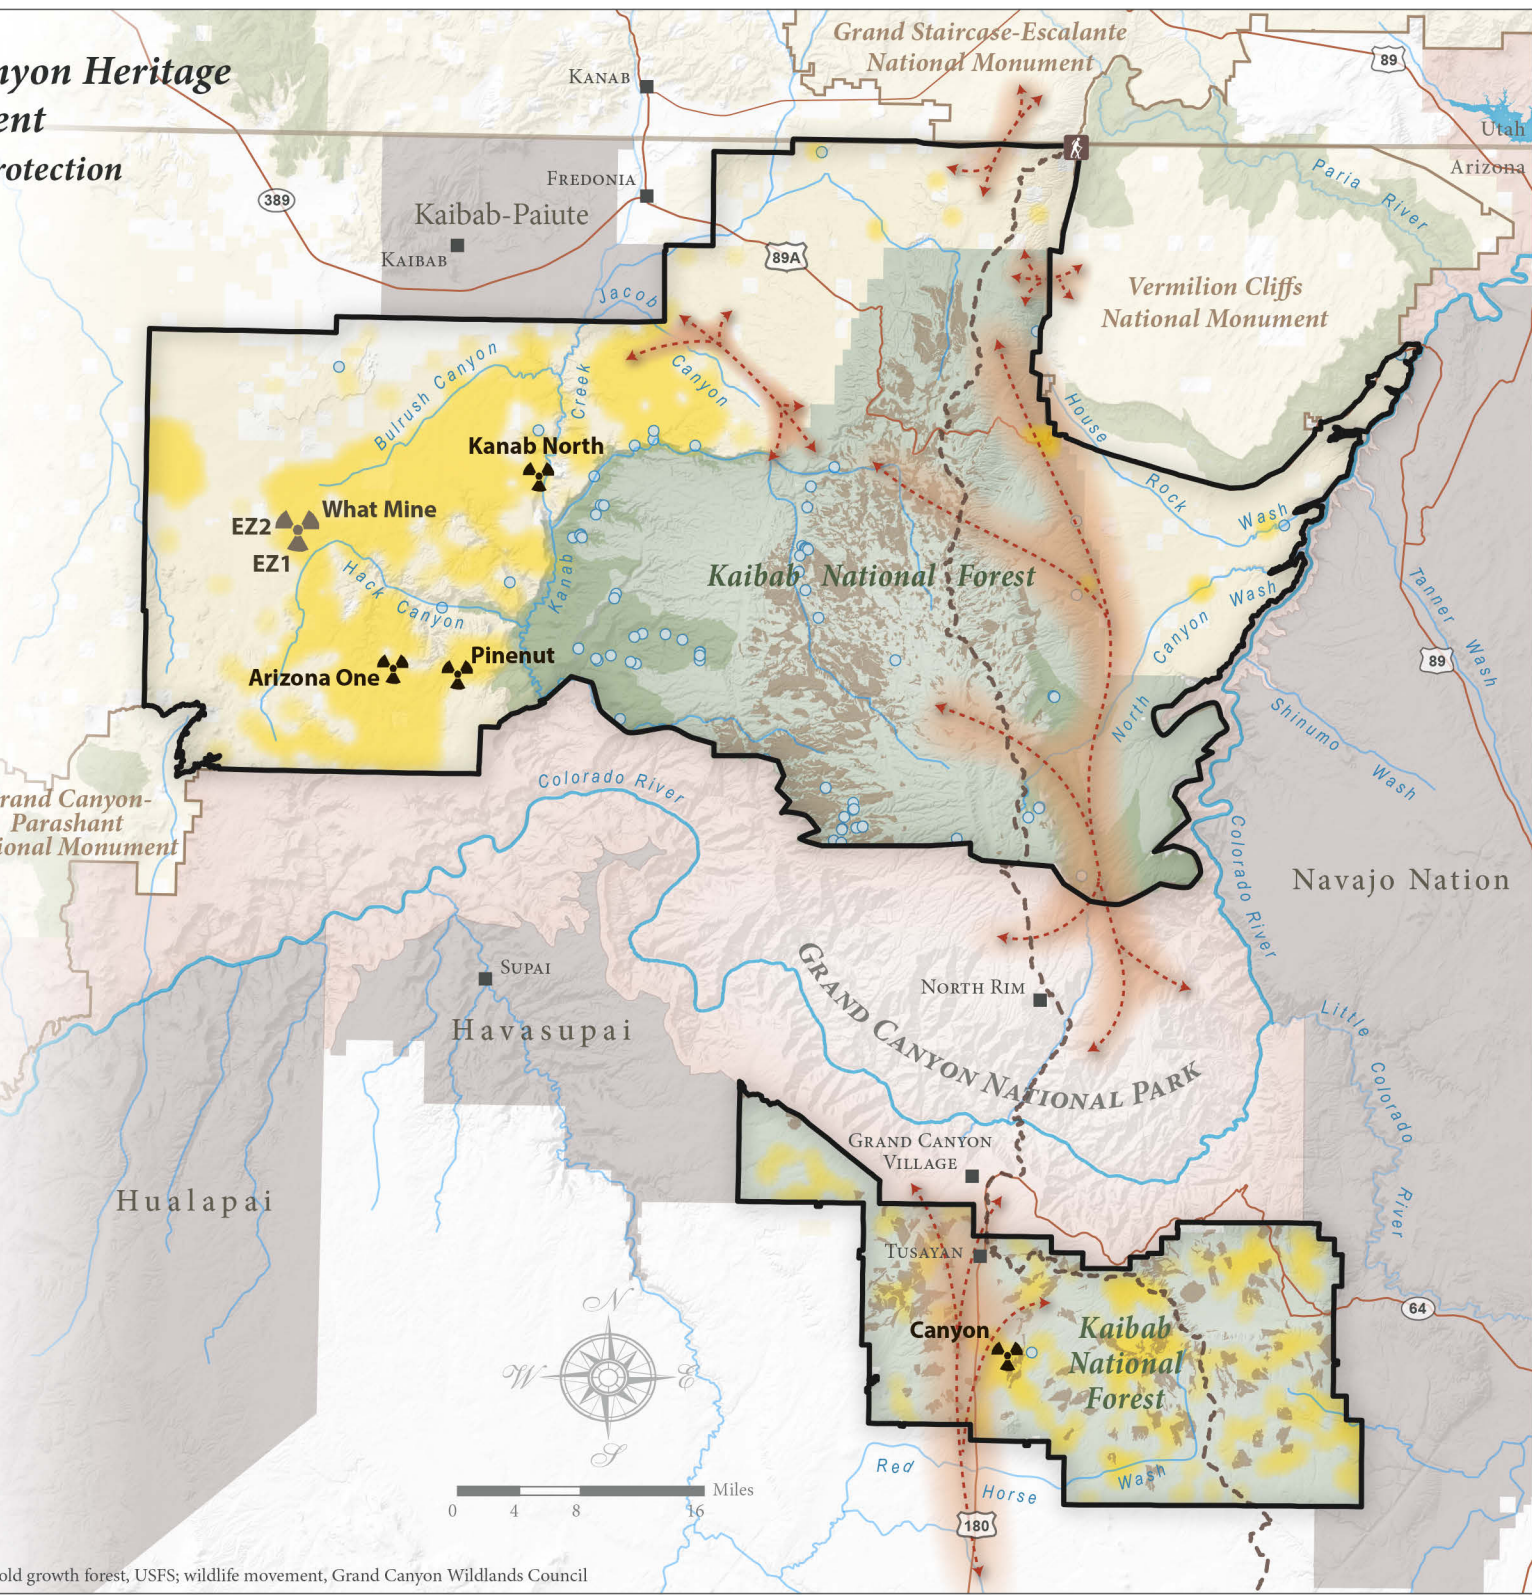

-  Existing Uranium Mines
-  Existing Uranium Claims
-  Three Proposed Uranium Mines

Land Ownership

-  Tribal
-  Forest Service
-  National Park Service
-  Bureau of Land Management
-  Existing National Monuments

Sacred Land and Heritage Values

As a sacred traditional homeland to all native people of the region, the entire Grand Canyon includes prayer sites, artifacts, ruins, springs, ancient trails, burials, rock art, and many more aspects of their heritage. This map does not depict specific cultural sites or values within the greater Grand Canyon system. However, all springs, waterways, wildlife, and other natural resources identified are integral to sustaining Grand Canyon's rich cultural landscape.

0 4 8 16 Miles